Bio

Kelley Keehn's middle name is money and her mission is to make Canadians feel good about it. A veteran in the industry, she's spent fifteen years as a personal financial educator and over a decade as a financial professional, and she's learned that everyone has money problems. That's as true for millionaires as it is for people who spend years trying to pay off their student debt.

As an award-winning, best-selling author of over ten books covering topics ranging from personal finance, the psychology of money, behavioural economics, women and finance to avoiding identity and fraud, she knows what's on the hearts and minds of Canadians when it comes to taking care of their money.
